Projects

Fresh Feeds
05/2023 - 07/2023

This is a news website project. The goal is to create a dynamic platform that easily brings together news articles from various global sources. The main focus is on quickly delivering these articles to users in an optimal and engaging way.

- I developed this project using RapidAPI for integrating data, HTML5 to structure the content, and Tailwind CSS to improve the visual appearance. JavaScript was crucial for dynamic functionalities, and I utilized React with the Vite framework as the project's core for efficient development and smooth user interactions
- Additionally, I implemented npm skeleton as a loader and have experience with responsive and mobile-first design principles

Quiz Nest
07/2023 - 08/2023

This is a dynamic Quiz web application with strong form validation. Users can participate in the quiz by logging in or signing up. The quiz includes a carefully selected set of questions, and users earn credit scores for correct answers. Your earned credit score is then displayed at the end of the quiz, showcasing your achievement. The platform seamlessly combines the interactive quiz experience with secure authentication mechanisms

- I implemented Firebase for secure login and sign-in authorization, and the core of the project relies on React with the Vite framework.
